ANNUAL QUALITY ASSURANCE REPORT

July 2010 - June 2011

J. D. Birla Institute, Kolkata is a private and unaided college.

Late Sushila Devi Birla, wife of eminent industrialist late L. N. Birla established a college for girls in her mother-in-law's name in June 1962. The College was named Smt. Jawahari Devi Birla Institute of Home Science and it filled a much felt gap in the scientific education of young women from Calcutta's conservative families. Today the name of the institution has been simplified to J. D. Birla Institute.

Over four decades, the Institute has grown with the needs and demands of the changing times. The Department of Commerce was added in 1997 and in tune with the shifting zeitgeist; a satellite campus was started in 2002 to house the co-educational Department of Management. In the year 2009, four new professionally oriented under-graduate courses were introduced apart from two new post-graduate courses. Today, the Institute provides graduate courses under the following departments:

- Dept. of Home Science
- Dept. of Commerce
- Department of Management
- Dept. of Food Science & Nutrition Management
- Dept. of Textile Science, Clothing & Fashion Studies
- Department of Human Development
- Dept. of Interior Designing

It also offers post-graduate degrees under the Department of Home Science.

The Institute and all its departments are affiliated to Jadavpur University, a world-renowned Centre of Excellence with an A grade rating (CGPA of 3.61) from NAAC. The courses offered by the Institute are exclusive and no other Jadavpur University affiliate can offer the B.Sc (Honours), B.Com (Honours) and BBA (Honours) courses that are conducted at the institute.

The Institute operates from two campuses; while the all-girls courses are run from the main campus, the satellite campus located just a couple of kilometers away houses the co-educational Management department.

The Institute was first time accredited with B+ (78.5%) by NAAC in March 2004. It applied for reassessment and re-accreditation in 2009 and in 2010, the NAAC peer team awarded the Institute with 'A' grade (CGPA of 3.11) highlighting the Institute's constant quest for self-improvement and excellence.

1. The application for the autonomous status of the college would be forwarded to the UGC.

Application for autonomous status was submitted to the UGC in the required format, once on 20th January 2009 and again on 2nd February 2010. Thereafter, the list of members comprising the evaluation team/committee was received by the college [F.2-69(2)/2010(AC), dated 17th September 2010] from the UGC. Since clarification regarding the inclusion of state government nominee in the committee that was sought is pending from the state government, the proposed visit of the team has not materialized.

2. Revise and upgrade the under-graduate course offered by the Institute under the Dept. of Commerce and introduce options for specialization in the final year.

The revised, modified and upgraded curriculum and syllabi for three-year B.Com (Hons) course involving specialization in ‘Accounting & Finance’ or ‘Marketing’ or ‘Banking & Insurance’ in the final year was approved by the University Court (vide EC Resolution No. 17 dated 14th March 2011 in a meeting held on 26th September 2011). The same has been offered to students since academic session 2011-2012.

3. Introduce M.Sc in Textiles & Clothing and M.Sc in Food & Nutrition under the Dept. of Home Science from academic session 2009-2010.

This target was fulfilled and the courses were introduced after approval by the university (vide EC Resolution No. 19, dated 8th July 2009 and Court Resolution No. 16, dated 19th August 2009) from session 2009-2010 onwards.

4. Revise and upgrade the under-graduate courses offered by the Institute under the Dept. of Management.

After approval by the special committee (panel of experts) which would be constituted shortly, the same would be sent to the University for approval.

5. Introduce M.Com for providing upward mobility to the under-graduate students of the Dept. of Commerce.

Faculty members of the Dept. of Commerce have initiated the process for preparing the M.Com curriculum and syllabi taking reference from the UGC-guidelines and the syllabus offered by the University of Calcutta. After preparing the basic format, a special committee (panel of experts) would be formed to assess the course content and then the recommended curriculum and syllabus would be forwarded to the Jadavpur University for necessary approval.

6. Revise, modify and update the syllabi of all post-graduate (M.Sc) courses under the Dept. of Home Science to bring them at par with the newly introduced under-graduate courses (B.Sc).

Faculty members are revising the curriculum and preparing the syllabi which would be sent at the earliest to the University for approval.

7. One year post-graduate diploma in Hospitality Management would be introduced soon.

Although this course had been approved by Jadavpur University (vide EC Resolution No. 19 dated 8th July 2009 and Court Resolution No. 16, dated 19th August 2009), it is yet to be introduced and would be offered to students soon.

The course was offered to the students beyond college hours. Participants were given a certificate of merit from ARENA on successfully completing the course.

9. Introduce formal method of self appraisal and career advancement scheme.

A systematic self appraisal method was introduced from academic session 2010-2011 onwards where every faculty member appraised herself on standard criteria and compared the results with those given by the management. Although a rough format on application and marking criteria related to CAS had been outlined, the same is being studied by the management for checking its feasibility.

10. Digitisation of the learning resource centre (LRC) of the institute and allotment of more space to it as recommended by the NAAC peer team.

Main Campus:

The LIBSYS software was purchased by the Institute and the process of circulation of all books, journals, periodicals and magazines in the LRC including audio-video resources is currently being digitized and automated. The bar coding of most resources in the LRC has been completed and the students have also been issued special cards having bar codes.

The LRC was extended and 920 ft<sup>2</sup> of additional space was added. The extension was done via the internet zone into the previous computer lab (room no. 305) and research journal section (room no. 306). The annex room inside the previous computer lab was converted into a processing-cum-store room.

Satellite Campus:

The process of assigning DDC call numbers, data entry and automation began in July 2010 in the satellite campus.

The LRC was completely revamped between May-July 2010. An additional area of roughly 400 ft<sup>2</sup> was included into the LRC to make a computer-bank-cum reading room and 46 internet enabled computers were installed for use by students and faculty. A close circuit camera was installed in this area. The space that housed the LRC coordinator's office and the processing room was broken and re-modeled to make room for an office space containing 4 faculty work-stations, an office for the Placement Officer and the LRC Coordinator's office. Issue and return counters were added to the left and right of the arch leading to the computer-bank area and a close circuit camera was installed on the wall opposite to the main door. The wall between the LRC and the computer-bank area was covered with floor to ceiling shelves to house the Book Bank.

- 11. Enhance learning resources by increasing the number of books, related CDs, DVDs and educational films at the LRC of both the campus and fully automate the library functions.

Refer to Section-20 and Section-21, Part-B of the AQAR

- 12. Making the campus WIFI enabled.

In order to provide flexibility to students and faculty members for using internet facilities, the campus has been made WIFI enabled. Now, students and faculty members can browse the internet from anywhere in the campus. Also increasing numbers of teachers are using ICT enable service to prepare class lectures.

- 13. Enhance the faculty development initiative by encouraging members to enroll in PhD programmes, undertake research activity and participate in seminars, conferences and workshops.

Faculty members have been encouraged to enroll for PhD and two members have already enrolled for doctoral programmes (refer to Section-6, Part-B of AQAR).

Through support and motivation more number of members took the initiative to participate in seminars and conferences (refer to Section-6, Part-A of AQAR).

Research activities were strengthened by effectively monitoring and supervising the post-graduate students' research work. In this regard the Research Committee of the institute played an active role and provided guidance to faculty members guiding these research projects.

Increased number of faculty members participated in seminars and conferences (refer to Section-6, Part-B of the AQAR).

- 14. Publish the research journal of the department.

In addition to the college research journal, an internal journal named Reflections based on the compilation of student's research work during at the institute academic session 2009-2010 and 2010-2011 was printed and published.

15. Take up more number of research projects and submit two such proposals to the UGC.

The institute although had prepared three minor research proposals (MRP) to be submitted to the UGC under the minor research projects proposal scheme, the same were not accepted by the UGC eastern regional office on grounds that the institute was a private unaided college and so under the new directives from the MHRD, it was is not eligible to receive any such grants.

Possibilities are being explored to find other such sources who would fund research projects (refer to Section-II, Part-B of the AQAR).
